

The outcome of the General Election must be a turning point for the future of our schools and colleges and for the future of the teaching profession.

NASUWT wants a new government to commit to making our country the best to grow up in for every child and young person.

Children's lives and futures are being damaged by a lack of investment in our schools, colleges and wider support services for children and families. More teachers and headteachers are leaving the profession prematurely, whilst targets to train the next generation of teachers have been missed for more than a decade – holding back a generation and damaging our country's prospects.

Our children and young people deserve better!

We believe that investing in a brighter future for our children starts with investing in our teachers.
