

More money in your pocket, thanks to the NASUWT

As an NASUWT member, you can take advantage of a wide range of discounts and exclusive offers on your home, car, electrical goods, eating out, leisure activities, retail gift cards, holidays and travel.

Over 250 regularly updated offers can be found at www.nasuwtdenefits.co.uk or by scanning the QR code on your membership card.

Look out for our twice-monthly Benefits and Services eZine featuring exclusive deals, a round-up of the best discounts and free prize draws from our partners.

If you are not receiving the eZine and would like to, simply notify us at membership@mail.nasuwtd.org.uk or 03330 145550.

If you use only a small proportion of these genuine offers, they can easily cover the cost of your annual NASUWT subscription and help you make further savings.

And, if you recruit other teachers to join the NASUWT, you can get money back on that too!

I saved £72 off my annual gym membership at Fitness First

I got £31 off a trip to London to the Harry Potter studio tour with the kids

I earned £60 in shopping vouchers by inviting four of my colleagues to join the NASUWT

I saved £72 off a week in a French holiday cottage

Thanks to the NASUWT, I paid less for my dream car

NASUWT – Here for you

We know that sometimes teachers experience financial hardship. Members are eligible to apply to the NASUWT Benevolence Fund. Dependants of a member may also be eligible for support.

Any member wishing to make a request to the Benevolent Fund should contact 03330 145550 or e-mail: advice@mail.nasuwt.org.uk.

Legal Protection

In addition to the Union's employment-related services, through partners, we offer a complete legal package for you and your dependants, which includes:

- a 30-minute free legal advice service staffed by experienced advisors to advise on any non-employment legal issues (e.g. noisy neighbours, faulty goods, holiday that went wrong);
- a free personal injury service for you and your dependants covering any non-work-related injury, disease or illness caused by someone else provided the claim can be pursued in the UK courts;
- a free road traffic accident scheme if you or one of your dependants is injured in an accident on the roads;
- a free will-writing service for you and a reduced cost will-writing service for family members; and
- a low fixed-fee conveyancing package for you and your dependants.

Insurance

We also provide for you the following insurance cover:

- fire and theft – for loss or damage of personal property on school premises;
- malicious damage to cars – on school premises;
- personal accident – whilst engaged in workplace/school activities, including commuting;
- public liability – in the event that members are held legally liable for an injury or damage whilst engaged in teaching activities.

Check for terms and conditions on the website.

NASUWT — Supporting members like you

Scott, Glasgow

"It wasn't until I needed help a few years into my career that I realised just what the NASUWT provided teachers in the way of support.

The personalised and professional assistance from the team was outstanding."

Fiona, Sheffield

"To be a member of the NASUWT is incredibly important.

The NASUWT provides such a variety of services. It's not just there as an insurance service, but to support members."

Sharron, Bridgend

"Being part of the NASUWT offers opportunities to debate the big issues that have a huge effect on our jobs. The Union keeps us informed of these issues, which is invaluable."

Pushpalata, Oxfordshire

"When I moved into teaching, I found this was the most supportive union.

When I compare the NASUWT to other unions, this is definitely the best."

Beverley, Northern Ireland

"The excellent training opportunities offered by the NASUWT to its members have been invaluable to me, both in supporting fellow members and for my own professional development."

Patrick, Bury

"Without the support of the NASUWT, I would have gone under.

It is vital to have that safeguard and to know that someone will support you."

Ensuring your voice is heard

Being a member of the NASUWT is being part of the largest union dedicated to teachers and headteachers throughout the UK.

Being part of the NASUWT means you are never on your own.

And being a member of the NASUWT means that you can be guaranteed that we will always be working to protect your rights and your interests as a teacher, whatever stage in your career.

Campaigning on issues that matter to you

By putting our members first, we are committed to ensuring that the issues that matter most to you are at the forefront of our campaigns on:

- pay and pensions;
- health and safety at work;
- equality;
- workload and working conditions;
- curriculum and assessment;
- your rights at work.

Supporting you at every stage of your career

Whatever stage in your career, the NASUWT is there to support you:

- student teachers;
- newly qualified teachers;
- classroom teachers;
- SENCOs;
- middle and senior leaders;
- deputy headteachers;
- headteachers and principals.

Nationally accredited CPD and professional courses

CPD for middle and senior leaders.

Supporting your career progression.

Training to become active in the Union.

With many courses available free of charge or highly subsidised for NASUWT members.

Help when you need it

National telephone advice lines – delivering a first line of service for members.

Network of regional centres in England and national centres in Northern Ireland, Scotland and Wales.

Emergency Out-of-Hours Telephone Helpline.

Financial assistance through our confidential Benevolence Scheme.

Specialist legal assistance

Being an NASUWT member means having someone on your side at work.

We are here to represent you if something goes wrong.

We are helping to secure record levels of compensation for our members following successful claims including unfair dismissal, personal injuries and criminal assault.

All with no hidden costs or fees for members.

*Always read the small print – because no other union offers teachers more!

Unrivalled insurance protection

Extra insurance cover as part of your membership for:

- loss or damage of personal property on school premises;
- malicious damage to cars – on school premises;
- personal accident cover at work;
- public liability insurance – if a claim is made against you for an injury to a child or property whilst you are engaged in teaching activities.

Exclusive benefits and services

Free legal advice service if you have a non-employment legal issue such as noisy neighbours, faulty goods or a bad experience on holiday.

Free personal injury service – for you and your family – if you sustain a non-work-related injury or illness.

Free road traffic accident cover – if you or a member of your family is injured in an accident on the roads.

Free will-writing service for yourself and other family members.

Low fixed-fee conveyancing package for members and their families.

Thousands of High Street discounts

A wide range of offers available from over 250 companies nationwide.

Discounts on eating out, holidays, cars, optical care, pet and home insurance, and preferential rates on mortgages and savings.

And, if you recruit other teachers to join the NASUWT, you can get money back on that, too!

World-class conferences and events

Regional and national conferences and events.

Access to some of the most nationally recognised experts in the field.

Many events provided free of charge or subsidised exclusively for NASUWT members.

Listening to you

The NASUWT is proud of its democratic traditions.

The NASUWT Annual Conference is our sovereign body where members set the policy direction for the Union.

Special consultation conferences are also available to members, and include conferences for:

- women teachers
- LGBTI teachers
- BME teachers
- supply teachers
- disabled teachers
- young teachers

Protecting your rights at work

We are committed to defending your rights at work – including your pay and pensions, working conditions, health and safety and your right to fair treatment from your employer.

All NASUWT members benefit from the strong collective voice that membership of the NASUWT provides when advocating on behalf of members to employers and to government.
